Contractor Fraud

It is important to be aware of the people you have hired to do work for you. Contractor fraud refers to illegal business practices committed by contractors or contracting firms hired for home renovations, repairs, or construction. This type of fraud can manifest in various ways, including:

Soddy Work: Contractors may perform substandard work or use inferior materials, leading to further damage and additional costs for homeowners.

Overbilling: Some contractors inflate costs or charge for work that was never completed.

Advance Payments: Fraudulent contractors often demand significant upfront payments and may disappear or delay the project after receiving the money.

Warning Signs of Contractor Fraud

Demanding Full Payment Upfront: Be cautious if a contractor insists on receiving all payment before starting work.

Lack of Written Contracts: Always ensure that you have a detailed contract that outlines the scope of work and payment terms.

Pressure Tactics: If a contractor pressures you to make a quick decision or sign contracts without adequate time for review, it may be a red flag.

What to Do If You Suspect Contractor Fraud

Gather Evidence: Collect all relevant documents, including contracts, invoices and communication records.

Consult an Attorney: Seek legal advice from an attorney experienced in construction law to understand your options.

Contact Authorities: If you believe criminal activity has occurred, report it to local law enforcement or consumer protection agencies.

Consider Recovery Options: Depending on the situation, you may pursue legal action or file a claim with your insurance company.

Being aware of the signs of contractor fraud and knowing how to respond, homeowners can protect themselves from potential scams and ensure they receive the quality work they are paying for.

To go in line with our fraud awareness Dispatch this month, you are invited to attend our document shredding event sponsored by Oak Street Health. August 21 from 12:00-3:00 PM in the Ballroom.

Please see inside your Compass to learn how to sign-up.
